

Image captions

Image	File name	Caption
	RichardBrink_HafenKo penhagen_01	Formerly a place of industry, Copenhagen's South Harbour is now home to modern residential quarters with direct access to the water. Photo: Richard Brink GmbH &amp; Co. KG
	RichardBrink_HafenKo penhagen_02	Newly created piers on the Teglholmen peninsula provide a foundation for the exclusive residences, which comprise a total of 45 units. Photo: Richard Brink GmbH &amp; Co. KG
	RichardBrink_HafenKo penhagen_03	In terms of style, the interconnected areas stand out for their mix of modernity and rustic charm. Photo: Richard Brink GmbH &amp; Co. KG
	RichardBrink_HafenKo penhagen_04	Fortis concrete channels from the company Richard Brink with compatible Zippa cast gratings ensure reliable dewatering, for example in the harbour complex's open spaces. Photo: Richard Brink GmbH &amp; Co. KG

Image captions

RichardBrink_HafenKo
penhagen_05 The cast gratings especially stand out along the piers thanks to their unique look, which picks up on the South Harbour's industrial past.

Photo: Richard Brink GmbH & Co. KG

RichardBrink_HafenKo
penhagen_06 The Fortis concrete channels meet D 400 load class requirements, while the Zippa cast gratings are designed to withstand loads of as high as E 600.

Photo: Richard Brink GmbH & Co. KG

Image captions

RichardBrink_HafenKo
penhagen_07

Another residential quarter was constructed on a second peninsula in Teglholmen's direct vicinity as part of the largest housing project to date in the Greater Copenhagen Region.

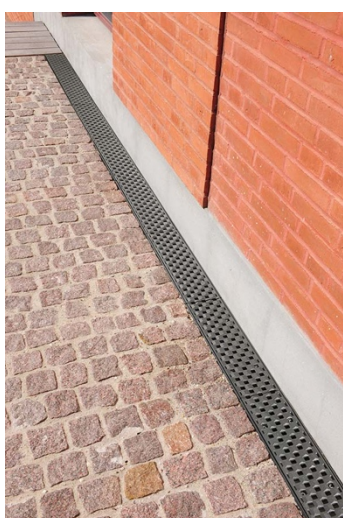

Photo: Richard Brink GmbH & Co. KG

RichardBrink_HafenKo
penhagen_08

The buildings catch the eye with their alternating light, dark and vibrant red brick façades.

Photo: Richard Brink GmbH & Co. KG

RichardBrink_HafenKo
penhagen_09

Concrete channels from the metal products manufacturer were installed along the façade areas here too, this time in combination with the Prisma cast grating.

Photo: Richard Brink GmbH & Co. KG

Image captions

RichardBrink_HafenKo
penhagen_10

The channels with their cast frames form an effective, practically seamless unit. The intricate surface of the Prisma add a profound layer of detail to the dewatering solution while creating bold contrasts with the paving and façade.

Photo: Richard Brink GmbH & Co. KG

RichardBrink_HafenKo
penhagen_11

The company Richard Brink produced around 150 metres of channels and gratings for the unique housing project on the Sluseholmen peninsula.

Photo: Richard Brink GmbH & Co. KG